THE POOR LANDOWNER.
 (From the Kansas City Star.)
 It will readily be conceded that the city cannot afford to cut weeds on vacant ground. The city cannot afford to do anything really necessary to be done. That is one of the peculiarities of cities.

Probably the owners of the weed patches can't afford to cut them either. It is pretty well established that much of the vacant ground in Kansas City is too valuable to have anything done to it at all. Taking the poverty of these owners into account, loaded down with high-priced real estate as they are, it obviously becomes the duty of their neighbors to help them out. That is an old neighborly custom, we believe. The neighbors used to help at a house raising in pioneer days we believe. Why not at a weed cutting?

The weeds are so high on some valuable holdings that they hide the real estate agent's sign. Some bill-boards are even threatened with concealment. The city's art is doomed if this goes on.

Neighbors endowed with charity and acythes are urged to help the city and its vacant lot owners out. The poor real estate holders we always have with us. Let us be kind to them.

TO THE PROPERTY OWNERS OF CITY OF PASCAGOULA

You are hereby notified to cut all weeds on your premises and vacant lots throughout the city. Such work to be completed on or before August 5, 1920. Those failing to comply with this order will be proceeded against under the ordinance covering the matter. F. H. LEWIS, Mayor.

Efficient bunkering service for coal and fuel is exactly what Pascagoula is aiming to furnish the shipping.

TO THE PUBLIC.

I take this method of extending to the good people of the city of Pascagoula my sincere thanks for their courtesy, co-operation and support given me while serving as a police officer in this city. I have tried to execute the law from an unbiased standpoint realizing that every one is subject to the law, both white and black, rich and poor. While I made an honest effort to prosecute every criminal it was never my intention to persecute anyone, and I have treated those with whom I had to deal in an official manner with all the consideration that they would permit.

I wish to say that the officials of the city of Pascagoula have proven to be honest, upright, progressive men of high ideals, doing unto others as they would have others do unto them. I will say to your chief of police, A. W. Ezell is one of the most efficient criminal officers that I have ever had the pleasure of working with, and his style of handling criminals compels them to regard the law, yet at the same time he treats them very humanely, if permitted to do so. I am forced to believe that the public fails to realize that they have as their chief of police one of the best men in this capacity, that South Mississippi has ever produced. I am glad to say that I am leaving this present position of my own accord, and am going to my home town to serve in practically the same capacity. I find no pleasure in leaving my friends here but for me it is better, for several reasons not mentioned. While I will not be with you after Sept. 1st, my best wishes will be with you and for you always.

Wishing for Pascagoula much prosperity, and for the people generally untold happiness and pleasure, I am, for a clean town, always, JAMES R. GOFF.

Miss Irma Freeland of Mobile, who was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. E. C. Beckham, last week, was the charming honoree of a delightful matinee party on Wednesday afternoon. Those who enjoyed the pleasant afternoon with her were Misses Gussie Shelton, Annie Farragut, Eunice Bugge, Manuella and Esther Pol, and the hostess, Mrs. Beckham.

THE BURDEN OF THE RAT.

Accepting the figures of the Rockefeller Foundation as being reliable, we can get a glimpse of the enormous burden the rat imposes on the country. If each person were directly taxed $5.80 for the support of a public nuisance, which at the same time was a known danger to public health, there would be a right lusty demand that the nuisance be abated. The rat should be hunted, trapped and destroyed, not sporadically as is now done but systematically and persistently until he adds a new species to extinct animals.—Selma Times Journal.

After a delightful visit here with Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Beckham and other relatives, Miss Irma Freeland returned Monday to her home at Mobile.
